CO-OPERATION NEED, TOPIC OF SPEECHES

Governor Spry and Noted Marketing Expert Tell Farmers to Get Together.

SALT LAKERS ATTEND Legislators and Electricians Go to Roundup in Special Train.

Special to The Tribune.

LOGAN, Feb. 1.—The necessity and importance of co-operation among agriculturalists and horticulturists was the theme of "Governor's Day" today at the farmers' roundup. J. Arthur Spry, one of the country's foremost marketing experts and secretary of the California Fruit Exchange at Los Angeles, delivered three lectures on the subject during the day. He was followed by Governor William Spry, who heartily commended the plan of the farmers' roundup and urged them to make use of it. He explained in detail the formation of the California Fruit Exchange, which controls about sixty per cent of the total output of fruit in that state, and of the many difficulties the growers had and of the efforts of the exchange and commission men to help the organization. Finally a large percentage of the growers organized and treated all efforts of others with them, employed men and women to work the marketing their fruit.

Immense Sum Saved.

The great problem arose over the inability of the exchange to distribute the fruit to the market. The price was reduced, but it offers a fair profit could be obtained. They overcame this by marketing and while they had great difficulty in getting the first ten thousand dollars for advertising, the exchange now spends $150,000 a year for a purpose.

The speaker then went into details of the management of the exchange, how the growers picked fruit, how they packed and sold and the business aspect. Since its organization it has increased business amounting to $1,000,000 and the total losses from the exchange were less than $50,000. Where formerly out 10 per cent to do business, the exchange does it for 2 per cent.

At Provo, he said, the condition of the growers was ten times worse than that of the Utah growers at the time, and yet by a system of exchange, similar to that used in California, they had rehabilitated the industry and are now doing well.

Business Methods.

W. K. King, of Salt Lake, delivered a talk on the farming business, which he maintained that in the successful farmer will be found the same careful attention to his affairs that the business man is required to exercise.

"The farmer has been good to you," he said, "but hereafter you must be compelled to systematize your business and get into the farming game as I get into the insurance game. There has been too much of a happy-go-lucky attitude. There has been no scientific calculation as to results. The farmer has been too careless about his soil reserve. They take the soil, but return but little. In the United States the increase in production of cereals in the United States has increased but 2 per cent, while the increase in average amounts to 100 per cent. We must learn to build up our soil reserve, and in connection with it, to double our yield per acre. In Germany the farmer does well because he has a loan on his land for years, while in Germany, where the land was killed for a thousand years, it is now being reclaimed."

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

A Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from its mother, and as the functions of the system of the utmost importance to the child's health should be paid to.

It is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constitute one of the most important factors in the child's life, and so we have a food like eggs causing biliousness, and a food like bananas causing constipation. It is to be considered that the child's system has great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled into its later routine.

Very valuable remedy at this stage, which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally according to the individual circumstances. This is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative and tonic, and it is to be given to the child as a mild laxative and tonic, and yet equally effective in cases of indigestion. At the same time it has a tendency to constipation, and a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and prompt action in the morning. It not only cleans the stomach and bowels but its tonic effect generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, of Monticello, Ill., writes that her daughter, Mary Babler, was constipated for the time until she gave

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS NEW QUARTERS

Midvale Organization Moves Into Handsome Rooms in Beckstead Block.

Special to The Tribune.

MIDVALE, Feb. 1.—The Midvale Commercial club is moving its new and commodious quarters in the remodeled Beckstead building. More than $3500 has been expended by the club in making the rooms into a modern, fully equipped club suite. A reception and "house warming" will be given in about a week to open the new rooms.

The rooms have been furnished in mission style oak furniture. Two pool tables and a billiard table are among the accessories. A card room, buffet, library, reception room, ladies room and kitchen give facilities that are adequate to handle the social and business gatherings which the club plans. The first meeting in the new quarters will be held Monday night.

The officers and directors of the club, to whom much of the credit for the improvement is due, are: John Dunn, president; J. A. Alcorn, vice-president; H. F. Miller, secretary; Moses F. Garff, treasurer; Leon Olsen, recording secretary; and Dr. J. H. Brown, H. C. Phelps and L. D. Anderson, directors. A ladies auxiliary of the club has been organized and includes in its membership many of the most prominent women of the city.

The farmer can secure a mortgage loan running as long as seventy-five years, and in France for eighty-five years. They have learned the art of maintaining a soil reserve, and we are now at the point where we must learn it.

Governor Talks.

Governor Spry commended the co-operative idea to the farmers, better work in agriculture is needed, and co-operation is the simplest way to get at it. The state was willing, he said, to undertake the solution of many problems in a general way; it was willing to supervise and to assist in enforcing certain laws and to protect the interests of the farmer, but it could not take hold of a man's farm and operate it for him. He said the state was glad to use its power in helping to keep infection from orchards, for instance, but it was going a little too far when a demand was made that the state should find a market for that fruit. That was a matter for the growers, he declared. A greater concentration of effort was needed in agricultural pursuits in this state, he said, and co-operation would bring that. He commended the work of the college and remarked that the $10 expended in maintaining that institution he was sure that $10,000 was returned to the state through its students.

During the day J. B. Castner of Hood River, Ore., gave a demonstration of scientific fruit packing, and John Knudsen of Brigham City made an address in which he urged the fruitgrowers to put their consciences in their fruit boxes if they desire success.

Large Attendance.

The throng at the college today was the largest since the roundup began, as 250 visitors from Salt Lake and Ogden were present. They came up on the excursion of the Utah Electrical club. The train reached here at 12:30 o'clock, and beside the electrical workers, there were on board thirty-five members of the legislature. Headed by the college band, the whole body of ex-senators marched from the depot to Main street, where they boarded cars and were taken to the college. Luncheon was served to the visitors in the gymnasium.

After inspecting the electrical display of the Utah Power & Light company, the visitors returned to the train, which left here at 6:30 o'clock. The train was decorated with a big electrical sign and equipped with a huge electrical search light that will be used in taking moving pictures while passing through the Bear River canyon on the return trip. Three diners were attached to the special, and the entire party were served a sumptuous dinner during the return trip by the Utah Power & Light company. The company was represented by General Manager T. B. Sawyer and C. Walter Jones, manager of new business for the concern.

CONVICT ESCAPES FROM ROAD CAMP

Sixty-three-year-old Criminal Takes French Leave; Still at Large.

F. E. Grant, a convict, regarded as a desperate criminal, escaped from the convict road building camp at Echo in Washington county, yesterday morning. Grant answered roll call at midnight, but failed to respond when his name was called at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. He bears the state's prison number 2681.

The escape of Grant was reported to Warden Arthur Pratt by telephone by Charles H. Davey, the deputy in charge of the camp. A posse immediately set out in pursuit of Grant, but he had not been recaptured at a late hour last night.

Grant was serving a sentence of eight years for burglary. On October 31 of last year he was convicted in the Third district court of the charge of robbing the Hoover drug store. Only one year previously, on August 10, 1911, Grant was released from the Tolson (Cal.) prison, after completing a sentence of five years for burglary. ## English Beauty Tells Complexion Secrets

"(Elise) in American Home."

Through a fortunate meeting with an English lady, noted for her dazzling complexion, recently I learned the meaning of that old adage, "Beauty is but skin deep." She taught me how to remove my muddy old skin, revealing the young and beautiful skin underneath. The process is so simple, harmless and inexpensive, I'm sure you'll be glad to know about it. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax at any drug store and apply thickly, like cold cream, for a week or so. Every morning in washing off the wax, tiny particles of worn-out cuticle come off, too. The action is so gentle and gradual, there's no discomfort. It's a wonderful treatment, as it not only peels off the faded or discolored skin, but all of its defects, as chaps, roughness, freckles, pimples, blotches, etc.

I'm indebted to the same lady for a remarkable wrinkle-removing formula. One ounce powdered saxolite is dissolved in a half pint with hazel. Used as a face bath, this is so effective that just one application causes the finer lines to disappear, and soon even the deepest ones go.

Lives There a Woman With a Soul So Dead Who Does Not Want Nice Hair on Her Head?

Certainly not! Every woman admires beautiful hair and wants it. Every woman can have nice hair. Not the kind that may be purchased at the store, but real live hair growing on her own head. There is nothing adds so much to woman's charm as a nice head of fluffy hair. It is not difficult to have nice hair. If not interfered with the hair will grow long and luxuriantly.

The most destructive and most prevalent form of hair trouble is dandruff. HERPICIDE eradicates this annoying accumulation, keeps the scalp clean and prevents the hair from falling out. This allows the follicles not already atrophied to spring into life, shooting forth from the tiny dormant papilla new healthy hair.

You experience marvelous benefit from the first application. The terrible itching which is indicative of dandruff stops at once. The hair becomes glossy and lustrous with a beauty that always indicates a clean, healthy scalp. More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of Newbro's Herpicide than from all other remedies combined. Why then court possible disappointments by using an off brand hair remedy when you can just as easily and cheaply have Herpicide, "The Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer?" It makes all hair beautiful.

THE HERPICIDE CO., Dept. 81B, Detroit, Michigan, will, upon receipt of Ten Cents in postage or silver send a sample bottle and valuable pamphlet about the hair to any address.

Herpicide in 50 cents and $1.00 sizes may be found at all toilet goods counters. Ask your dealer for it. If you are not satisfied he will refund your money. Applications obtained at the better barber shops and hair-dressing parlors.

TOO MUCH POLITICS, SAYS IDAHO SENATOR

Declares the Supreme Court Judges Devote Much Time to Political Activities.

Special to The Tribune.

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 1.—"If the justices of the Idaho supreme court would devote more time to legal matters and less to political matters there would be no occasion for increasing the number of judges," declared Senator Edgington today, during the debate on house joint resolution No. 3, which provides for the submission to the voters of the constitutional amendment which provides for additional judges instead of three as at present.

Edgington's declaration came as the climax to a lively debate over the resolution in the committee of the whole. The echo of his words had not died away before a number of the senators were complaining that the resolution was a measure by Edgington, backed by Fields, Dunning, MacBride, Fairchild and McBride, finally resulted in a measure to postpone further consideration of the resolution until later, allowing the resolution to retain its place on the calendar.

Haight's local option bill, the principal feature of which is the requirement that common carriers shall keep a record of shipments of alcohol and intoxicating liquors shipped into "dry" territory, passed the senate today and will be transmitted to the lower house for ratification. The measure is a local option bill, and will be transmitted to the lower house for ratification. The measure is a local option bill, and will be transmitted to the lower house for ratification.

Hyde of Salt Lake tonight in the Commercial club here and expressed their approval of a plan to organize a $100,000 fruit evaporating and marketing concern. A committee consisting of John D. Dixon, Myron C. Newell and W. D. James was appointed to investigate Commissioner Korns' proposition thoroughly.

The plan is to form a stock company with a capitalization of $100,000. The fruit-growers are to take 200 shares of preferred stock at $100 per share. Commissioner Korns will take the balance. He proposes to have each grower equip his ranch with a small evaporator which would cost about $100. The fruit would be dried and shipped to Salt Lake, where the company would pack and market it.

CANAL PROBLEM UNSETTLED.

Strawberry Water-users Cannot Agree on Construction of High Ditch.

Special to The Tribune.

PROVO, Feb. 1.—The question of constructing the proposed high-line canal with the Strawberry water-users association do not agree on the proposition to pay for the cost of the canal, a requirement which would be demanded by the reclamation service.

Only about half of the members of the association, who have already contracted for water under the lower canal, hold land that would come under the higher one. Those who do not feel that they should not bear the expense of the upper ditch when it would be of no benefit to them. There is a possibility that those who are interested in the higher ditch may organize a separate association and have the ditch built, providing the cost is not found to be prohibitive.

Grocer Commits Suicide.

Special to The Tribune.

PARK CITY, Feb. 1.—John Shields, a prominent local grocer, committed suicide at his home here at 11:30 o'clock last night by shooting himself with a revolver. The bullet entered his head and he was dead when his wife found him a few moments later. Governor W. R. Jeffords states that the gun was found on the floor of the bathroom, while Shields was in the tub. It is believed that Shields, who was 70 years old, committed the act while in a temporary fit of insanity. According to members of the family, he had been brooding lately over the death of his daughter. He is the father of Dan Shields, the Salt Lake attorney who was a Democratic candidate for the legislature last fall. He had lived in Park City since 1885 and served one term as mayor of the city.
